

Flyer

May 3, 1989

Volume XVI, Issue 11

Peace Curriculum
Rapidly Gaining Support

LIFE INSURANCE

TAKE OUT AN INSURANCE POLICY ON YOUR LIFE—USE CONDOMS.

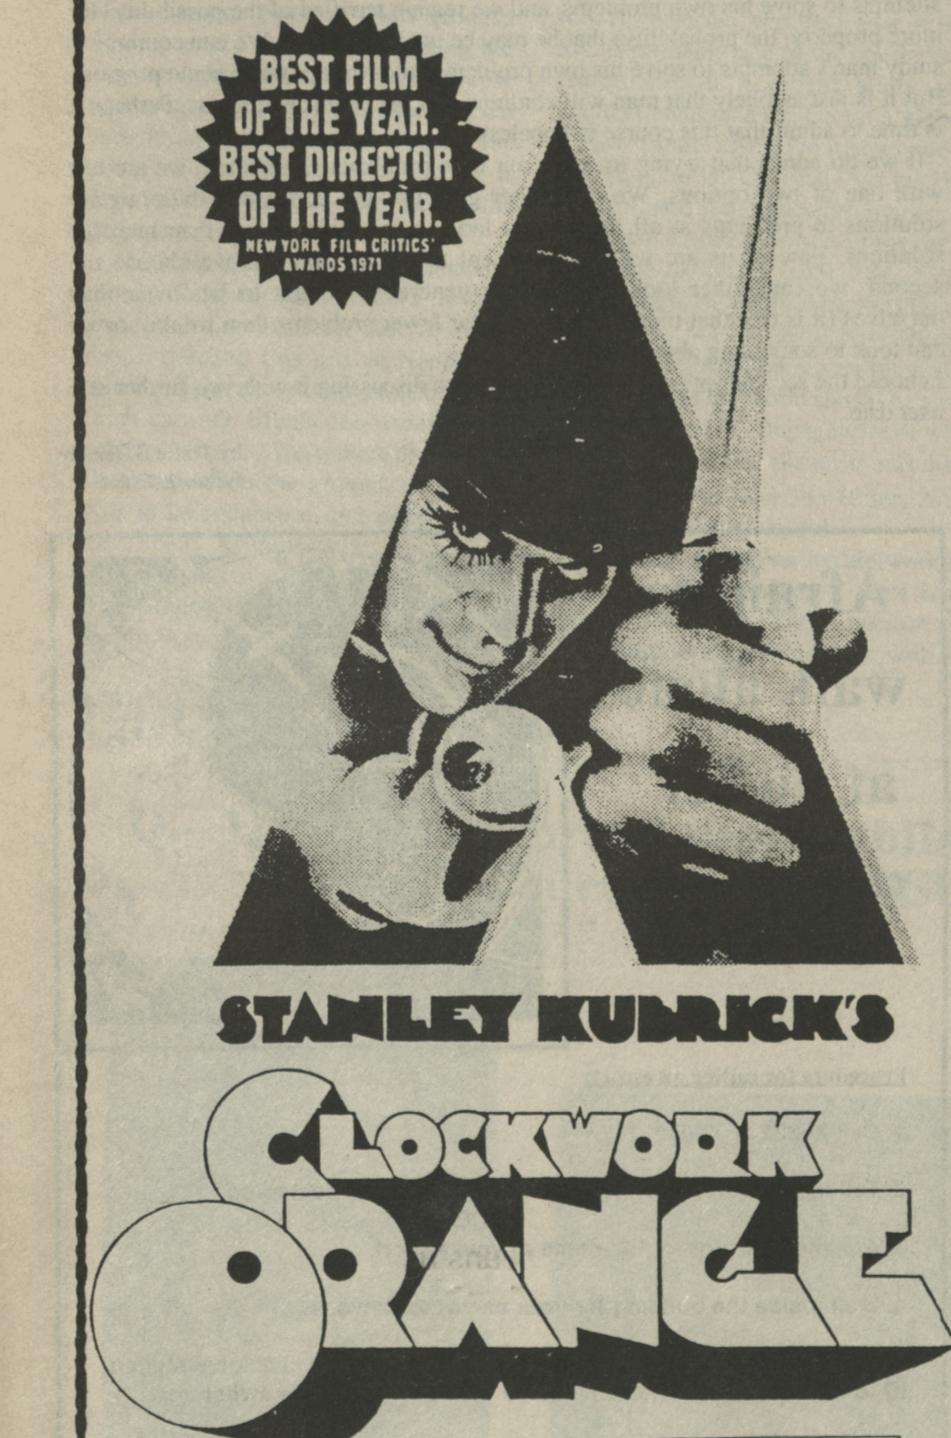

With AIDS, abstinence is the best policy. Minimum coverage means using a condom. You choose the policy...the benefits last a lifetime.

DELAWARE AIDS PROGRAM OFFICE
Anonymous counseling and testing provided in all Delaware counties. Call the HOTLINE for referrals.

AIDS: YOUR LIFE...YOUR CHOICE
HOTLINE 1-800-422-0429

(302) 995-8422
 Division of Public Health
 Department of Health and Social Services

What movie ...
 features the body of Darth Vader - but not the voice?
 is the last SSPB film of the semester?
 features music by a future transsexual?
 has sex, drugs, violence, and Beethoven?
 should you see if you're secretly tired of being sensitive to the homeless?

May 6-7
 Devilbiss #149
 7 & 9:15pm

SSPB

Contents ...

Cover
Gulls Baseball in Championship	16
Opinion
Peace Curriculum	10
News
Imbalance in Education is Dangerous	4
American Campus
Barry Packer to Leave in May	6
Entertainment
Law School Applications on the Rise	12
Sports
Theatre Review- "Crimes of the Heart"	13

Editor-in-Chief Jamie Hinely	Distribution Manager Robert Heid
News Editor Joann McCartney	Staff Writers Kathy Maloney, Jamie Bentkowski Tray Webb
Entertainment Editor Susan Harris	Columnists Chris Llinas, Jim Bergevin
Sports Editor Rick Thornton	Typesetters Brenda DeLauter, Mitch Rosenwald
Advertising Manager Allen Barnes	Production Staff Danny Leve, Steve Geishecker
Financial Manager Debbie Thompson	Photographers Brian Price, Andrew Day, Cheryl Devine
Production Director Charla Walls	Proofreader Cathy Farmer
Photography Editor David Lasher

The Flyer News magazine is published biweekly during the regular semester by the student body of Salisbury State University, Salisbury, Maryland. The business and editorial offices are located in the University Center, Room 229A.

The Flyer News magazine welcomes Letters to the Editor for publication. Letters must be signed, but names will be withheld upon request. Commentaries will be accepted from any student or faculty member. The Flyer News magazine reserves the right to edit all material. Commentaries and Letters to the Editor reflect the opinion of their authors and not necessarily those of the Flyer News magazine or Salisbury State University.

Address correspondence to the Flyer News magazine, Salisbury State University, Salisbury, Maryland, 21801. Phone 543-6191.

Editorial

Imbalance in Education is Dangerous

Three SSU students have started a petition for a peace curriculum at SSU. The idea has met with great enthusiasm, as over 500 people have signed the petition to date. Organizers explain that this is not an attempt to return to the "peace, love, and granola" of the 1960's, but a move to establish a peace studies major, which would focus on nonviolent problem resolution. The need for such a curriculum arises, according to the organizers, from the present imbalance in education concerning problem solution. Presently, education focuses on violent solutions almost exclusively, and courses on nonviolent (peaceful) solutions would help to create a valuable balance.

The case for a peace curriculum rests on the supposed dangers of imbalance, and the value of balance. But most of our courses do not deal with problem resolution in the first place. For example, history is the study of what has happened. Most problems in history have been "resolved" through violent means. Any study of history, then, must cover violent problem solutions as they have occurred. The study of historical problem solutions focuses on the violent, and rightly so. In some situations, imbalance is proper.

This does not mean that an imbalance in the courses that do deal with problem resolution is proper. It seems that the proper study of violent human behavior in the past has spilled over into some of our courses that teach ways to handle future problem resolution. Here, an imbalance towards violent (or nonviolent) solutions is not proper. As a last resort, violent solutions to conflict may be necessary (if only to protect the human rights on which we all agree), and we should study violent solutions for that reason. In most cases, nonviolent solutions are far less painful, and we should study nonviolence as well.

The final topic I will touch deals with a larger imbalance in our education. The peaceful and violent solutions I have written of are both ways that man attempts to solve his own problems. There seems to be a great deal of evidence that man is unable to solve his own problems through any means, violent or otherwise. Man has been on earth somewhere between 5,000 and 1.5 million years, and in all that time, he has never solved even his most basic problems by way of violence, nonviolence, medicine, technology, or any other means. Men still, lie, cheat, steal, and make every other mistake imaginable. There have always been, and still are, racists, sexists, hedonists, and any other evil "ist" you can think of. There seems to be a basic problem with man's nature that he is unable to deal with on his own.

This is the real imbalance in our educational system. We learn about man's attempts to solve his own problems, and we remain terrified of the possibility (or more properly, the probability) that he may be unable to do so. We can continue to study man's attempts to solve his own problems, and perhaps make some progress. But it is just as likely that man will continue making mistakes forever. Perhaps it is time to admit that this course is hopeless.

If we do admit that trying to solve our own problems is hopeless, we are left with one of two options. We can either give up, and admit that there are no solutions to problems at all, or we can look to something other than man for solutions. Few of us are willing to except the first option. If we choose the second, we can either look to creatures generally thought to be lower than ourselves (it is true that they seem to have far fewer problems than we do), or we can look to something above us. I choose the second option, and look forward to discussing it with you further at a later date.

by Jamie B. Hinley,
Editor-in-Chief

Letters

"Enough is Enough"

Dear Flyer,

Alright, enough is enough. I sat by, quietly, while Mr. Lasher (and I use that term loosely) "refuted" William Wilke's comments on David's article, but his latest column was just too much.

First of all, you, David, claim that your column is an editorial ("A statement of opinion in a newspaper..." - Webster's Second College Edition) as well as a satirical (using "ridicule, sarcasm, irony, etc. to expose, attack, or deride vices, follies, etc." - again, Webster's 2nd) column. This means, basically, that your writings are intended to make fun of, put down, expose, etc. ideas that do not agree with your own. That's fine, Dave. This is the United States. You are entitled to your opinion. However, so are Mr. Wilke and Mr. McCarthy.

In the March 8th Flyer, David, it was printed that your column was "written in response to two letters to the editor...". Yes, you did respond directly to Mr. Wilke's letter, but you did not appear to comment on Mr. Cox's. (Unless you count the section about your bike that you mentioned, which could refer to either letter.) Was this because Mr. Cox's statements were accurate and you could not think of anything sarcastic to say back to him or because you felt you could be sarcastic towards William? Or possibly both?

Also, your reference to William's

Afraid to walk alone
at night?

Call a student escort
to take you across campus.

Procedure for calling an escort:

1. Call X6222 or X6000.
2. Tell the operator your name, starting point, and destination.
3. Ask the operator for the name of your escort.
4. Wait inside the building for your escort to arrive.
5. Make sure the escort has a public safety radio and check his student ID to make sure it is the same name given to you by the switchboard!!
6. The student escort will take you to any location on campus.

NOW SEEING YOU SAFELY HOME TO OFF-CAMPUS LOCATIONS TOO!!

Call: 543-6222 or 543-6000

Every night 10:00 to 1:00AM

SPSA
(Students for Public Safety and Awareness)

Letters

cont. on page 5

My Two Cents

by David Lasher, Photography Editor

In the spirit of earth day and in the wake of the Alaskan oil spill, I could no longer hold back my feelings on the apathy the students of SSU exhibit towards our bemuddled planet, and more obviously, the campus itself. As the sun worshippers lay out and students get out more and more with this wonderful weather, a great deal more trash is getting dumped on the lawns and walks of the campus grounds. Now grounds does an awesome job of grooming the campus, but not so that a few nonsensical students can dump their cigarette butts and cans and other crap all over. I'm depressed enough by it just walking around and seeing the garbage strewn by students.

Think how Chris Llinas and the other students and workers in the grounds department feel. Just the other day I watched this girl in Nanticoke throw a cigarette onto the ground with a trash can not fifteen feet from her. I asked, "Why?" "Well, there are like all these others on the ground, so what?" Not to be redundant, but people, let's get a clue!! As students (and supposedly intellectuals) it's disheartening to see this happen. Yet somehow it doesn't surprise me.

The very education we are working on won't mean anything if there is no planet to use it on. Forget nuclear war. If it comes to that, I'll be there with you with my sun reflector and a cold six pack in hand. The real threat to human existence now is the plethora of toxic waste, industrial pollution, deforestation and other pollution and abuse of our Mother Earth. Please do your part.

Your room may look like a slum with Beast cans and week-old pizza (and week-old socks for that matter), but others is wrong? Would you not say that it might be a good idea to take a little of this cash and help the poor and destitute in America? Call me crazy and/or selfish, but how can we hope to bring the "shining light of Democracy" (as you seem to think of it) to other countries when it is being darkened by the increasing number of homeless Americans and unemployed individuals in our own homeland?

Letters Cont.

What about the idea of communism, and maybe even socialism, seems to bother you, Dave? The idea of everyone sharing equally and working in unison with the state does not seem that bad. Granted, not everyone is going to "pull his/her own weight" because we do not live in a perfect world - and thanks to people with attitudes like yours, Dave, we are not moving any closer to one.

once you step out of your hall or apartment take pride in this campus and the hard work that goes into it! For that matter, we should take pride in the state and the planet. Ideally we would recycle all our waste, eliminate the toxins polluting our bodies and this global mass, and right the other environmental atrocities inflicted upon our home!

Here we are trying to "thaw out the remains of the Cold War" and people like you are just "turning down the temperature" once again.

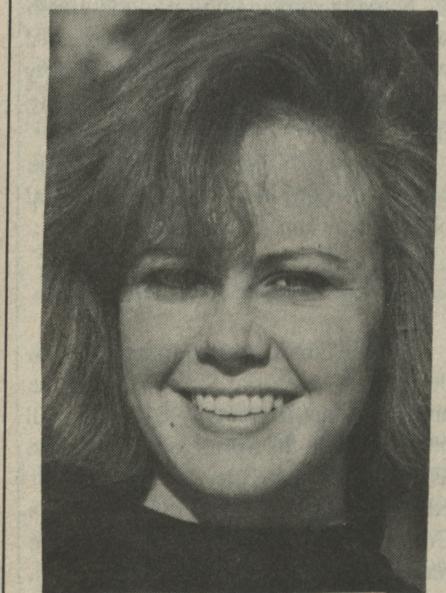

We could argue back and forth about proper definitions of terms and political beliefs all day, but we would probably never agree. However, David, as I conclude this rather lengthy letter, I would just like to express the opinion of a fair-sized group of people and say, "David, get off your high horse. Your 'holier-than-thou' attitude is annoying. The only reason we read your column is for something to either argue with or laugh at - not laugh with, but laugh at." Thank you for your time.

Sincerely yours,

Kevin W. Smith

Gull's Eye View

Q.- Do you support the establishment of a peace curriculum at SSU?

Joanne Burke - "I don't think they should have classes to teach beliefs. People already have their own beliefs."

Chris Myers - "Yes, because it can only benefit the students."

Jodi Stark - "The people who want to do it, they can do it, but for a university they could think of better classes like a pre-law curriculum."

Chris Todd - "They should be able to establish a peace curriculum. I personally wouldn't support it or participate (because I am a Republican)."

Photos and information compiled by David Lasher, Photography Editor

Walkway To Connect U.C. And Main Campus

by Joann McCartney, News Editor

Approximately 65 parking spaces will be removed from the Devilbiss parking lot this summer to make room for a pedestrian walkway, according to Director of Administrative Services Richard N. Yobst.

The purpose of the construction is to make a transition from the main part of the campus to the University Center, said Mike Layshock, an Assistant Director of the Physical Plant who designed the walkway.

The walkway will extend from the main north entrance of the University Center to the south side of Pocomoke Hall. The main portion of the walkway is a 252 foot arbor that will cover the area of the current crosswalk in the parking lot, said Yobst.

The roof of the arbor will be made of wooden slats and plants will cling to it as they grow.

A fountain and a brick courtyard similar to the one between Chesapeake and St. Martin halls are other highlights of the walkway, added Yobst.

The project is scheduled to be completed by September except for the planting of shrubs which must be done in the late fall. By the time all the construction and planting is completed, architect Layshock estimates that

David Lasher, Photography Editor

SSU's parking situation will change again with the new walkway.

With the loss of 65 to 68 parking spaces, Director of Public Safety James L. Phillips plans to reallocate "the Senate meeting, said Phillips.

Devilbiss parking lot will be designated for senior resident students, Phillips said. If excess spaces are spaces the best way for the demand".

The changes in the parking lot designation were endorsed by the Traffic Commission and discussed at a Student present, junior residents may be allowed to park there.

The parking lot behind the Music/Arts building and behind Carruthers Hall will be solely for commuting students. Sophomore residents, junior residents and commuters will be allowed to park in the Dogwood Lot. Senior, junior and sophomore residents and commuters will be allowed to park in the Chesapeake lot, Phillips said.

According to Yobst, the installation of the pedestrian walkway is the first of a three-phase plan. The second phase, he said, is scheduled to take place in the summer of 1990 and will entail the renovation of the Devilbiss parking lot. In this process Yobst said some of the 65 lost parking spaces will be regained.

Another part of the second phase will be the extension of the campus mall/walkway from the rear of Pocomoke to the area between Choptank and Chester halls, according to Yobst.

The third phase is a planned development of the area from the front of Devilbiss Hall to the edge of red square. This phase has not been scheduled, Yobst said.

After a long week of competitions and fun, the tenth annual Derby Days, sponsored by WSUR, the Book Rack, SSPB and Pepsi, finally came to a close with the Choptank Chicahabas as the winners.

The twelve-girl team consisting of captain Susan Harris, Jill Brock, Jane Cleveland, Kate Bauer, Tish Riale, Jen Baulkin, Ann Willy, Marisa Marinelli, Kristin Motley, Sharon Radcliffe, Kim Dunn and coach John Stillings pulled it out in the end, ahead of the Manokin Maniacs and the girls of ZTA.

Day one began early Monday with the golden disc hunt, the radio clue contest, and the banner contest. Unfortunately, due to cheating, the golden disc contest was disqualified.

The Choptank Chicahabas first captured the eye of the judges with their colorful four-sheet-long banner of a surfing chiquita banana.

Then came the chase of the derbies. The object -- to catch the man with the derby by touching his hat. And once again, the Choptank Chicahabas stole the lead with their fast moves.

Day three surprised the crowd with a choral competition and a beauty contest. Each team performed a skit to their favorite song. And for the third time, the Choptank Chicahabas won with their own rendition of the Beach Boys favorite "Surfing USA".

In the beauty contest ZTA's luscious Ron Satack took first while John Stillings and Kenny Gibson became runners-up.

After the derbies and discs were handed in and points calculated, the Choptank Chicahabas were in the lead.

Barry Packer To Leave In May

by Jamie Bentkowski, Staff Writer

The tough decision has finally been made, and as of the second week of May, Salisbury State University will unfortunately lose their sports information director, Barry Packer.

Packer has been part of the PR department since 1987. Only a few weeks ago Dr. Lide, head of the Physical Education department, and Gaines Hawkins, head of PR, informed Packer that his contract had been refused for renewal. Two department heads declined to comment on the reasons for the sudden decision.

According to Packer, the three men met last year (March 1988) to review the evaluations from his first year. Packer was able to see his complaints from the coaches, and was given a chance to rectify them.

"I did my best to rectify the few complaints that were handed to me," Packer commented.

The three did not meet until January of this year to review the evaluations again. This time, Dr. Lide and Hawkins told Packer that no coach gave him above a fair on all the evaluations and that his contract would be terminated as of this spring.

When asked about the evaluations, Hawkins said that in this case Packer did not see the evaluations done on him. Each coach filled out an evaluation which contained some six questions pertaining to the sport information director's strengths and weaknesses.

Stunned about the situation, Packer

Rick Thornton

went on his own to talk to some of the coaches.

"I don't understand. When I talked to the coaches, no one complained. Some even praised the improvements from last year," Packer said.

Packer continued, saying, "I do in fact work for the school and the coaches.

But the real ones I work for are the media outlets and, more importantly, the kids themselves. They are the ones who are, in effect, paying to play."

When Packer first came to Salisbury, he set specific goals for himself. He wanted to see center Dawn Webb and lacrosse attackman Tim Berquist make All-American. He also wanted to set up an NFL tryout for quarterback Kevin White, and he wanted to watch the softball team go to a championship.

This decision affects not only Packer, but the graphic designs department and the media also.

"They (the media) know how I work and vice versa. We have a close working relationship. It's going to be tough for another person to adjust, and in the end it's consequently going to affect the players," Packer concluded.

Packer has applied at other institutions, including NYU, Memphis State, Shepherd College, and Chapman College.

As a result of the vacancy, SSU has formed a search committee. Some 51 applications have been narrowed down to three possible candidates. These individuals will be visiting the campus in the coming weeks.

Hawkins added, "The position will not change. It will be a contractual job paying in the mid teens."

FREE HEALTH SCREENING

Students from the School of Nursing and Health Sciences at Salisbury State University will offer free health screening at the Community Health Services Supermarket in the Flanders Room of the Wicomico Youth and Civic Center on Saturday, May 6, from 10 a.m. - 6 p.m.

Nursing students will provide vision screening for the public from 10 a.m. - 2 p.m. Students in the respiratory therapy program will do lung function testing from 2 p.m. - 6 p.m.

The screening is available to the public in conjunction with National Nurse's Day and the Salisbury Festival.

MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

The Alvin J. and Margaret J. Van der Bogart Memorial Scholarship in the amount of approximately $10,000, will be awarded in the Spring of each year to assist in or provide for the higher education of a resident of Wicomico County. In addition to the residence requirement, the applicant must be in the top 10 % of the class at the high school or college which the applicant is currently attending, and must have applied for admission to a college or university as a full-time student.

Applications are available from and should be submitted to the Rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church. Deadline for submission is May 6, 1989.

May 3, 1989

Chicihabas Winners Of Derby Days

by Jamie Bentkowski, Staff Writer

Saturday afternoon kicked off the Games Day in the quad. Each team competed in games like Dizzy Izzy, keg rolling, musical chairs, water balloon volleyball, and the egg toss contest, as well as the final big Derby Daddy race.

Before the final race, the Choptank Chicahabas, the girls of ZTA, and the Manokin Maniacs were a near tie.

The Derby Daddy race (worth 25 points) decided the victory. The Choptank Chicahabas found their clues, the first of which led them to their Derby Daddy and a win for the tenth annual Derby Days.

"We wanted to make sure that we were more organized this year, and in the end all of our hard work paid off," Susan Harris, captain of the Choptank Chicahabas, concluded. Most members of that team were members of last year's first place team, the Brass Monkeys.

Sign Language Concert

Belinda Cathey, president of the Salisbury State University Sign Language Club, and "The Gang," an Ocean City Mennonite youth group, will present a Sign Language Concert on Friday, May 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the Wicomico Room of the University Center. This concert is free and open to the public, both hearing impaired individuals and the hearing community as well. A donation will be collected to support a youth ministry in Ocean City this summer.

"You don't have to know any sign language to enjoy this event, we guarantee it," said Cathey. "It is dramatized signing to contemporary Christian music featuring Carman, David Meece, Truth and Gospel Rap."

Financial District Tour

by Robert Heid, Contributor

For the second year in a row, members of Phi Beta Lambda, the Financial Management Association, and the National Association of Accountants toured the financial district of New York City. Led by professors Winder, Khazeh and Marshall, the tour arrived in Manhattan early Thursday evening. The group spent the evening relaxing and discussing the following day's plans at New York's Hard Rock Cafe.

The first stop on Friday's agenda was the New York Stock Exchange.

Students were given an opportunity to ask specific questions about the functions of the Exchange and view trading on the floor. A visit to Goldman Sachs, an institutional investment firm, followed. Goldman Sachs handles trading for large institutions and very wealthy individuals. They exact a higher commission than most other firms but claim that better customer services more than offset the price differential.

After lunch and a walk through Battery Park, the group proceeded to the New York Mercantile Exchange, also known as COMEX or the Commodities Exchange. At first glance the trading floor resembles a mob of arm-waving, screaming individuals on the brink of mass pandemonium. It was revealed, however, to be a system of hand signals and verbal orders by which trading of major commodities is conducted.

Concluding the tour was a trip to the gigantic Merrill Lynch Building.

Mr. James Winder, Dr. Winder's brother and senior money market economist at Merrill Lynch, led the students on the tour. The group was able to view the trading floor which Merrill Lynch boasts to be the largest of any investment firm in the world.

Call me today and see how simple it is!!

Or clip out and send!

NAME: _____

ADDRESS: _____

PHONE NUMBER: _____

SEND TO:
MICHAEL A. CRUM, Realtor
933 Mt. Hermon Rd.
Market Place East
Salisbury, MD 21801
Bus. (301) 543-2191
Res. (301) 742-0457

A MEMBER OF THE SEARS FINANCIAL NETWORK

COLDWELL BANKER

REAL ESTATE FIRST

The Philosophical Society, in cooperation with the Philosophy Department, the Appropriations Board and the Honors Program, recently sponsored its eighth Spring Symposium which addressed the question "Does Nature Have Rights?"

The Symposium was held on Saturday, April 15 in Carruthers Auditorium with approximately 125 people attending. The speakers did...Students and faculty stressed to the speakers that nature does have intrinsic value..."

Miller was very pleased at the response of the students and faculty in challenging the speakers' views about nature's rights.

The guest speakers for the morning presentations were two visiting philosophers, Dr. Baird Callicott from the University of Wisconsin at Stevens Point and Dr. Mark Sagoff, acting director and senior research scholar at the Institute for Philosophy and Public Policy at the University of Maryland.

Several faculty members led the afternoon sessions. According to Jerry Miller, Philosophy instructor at SSU, "Students took a lot bigger stand on nature's rights than the speakers did...Students and faculty stressed to the speakers that nature does have intrinsic value..."

Miller was very pleased at the response of the students and faculty in challenging the speakers' views about nature's rights.

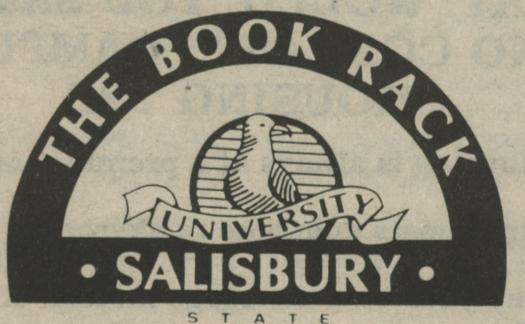

The guest speakers for the morning presentations were two visiting philosophers, Dr. Baird Callicott from the University of Wisconsin at Stevens

Send a lovely Flyer personal to the lovely person in your life. Make sure it is 25 words or less then drop it off at the Flyer office, UC 229A, or flip it under the door. It's fun and it's free-go for it!!

Spring Is In The Air!!!

Legs, legs and more legs; a popular attraction by Nanticoke.

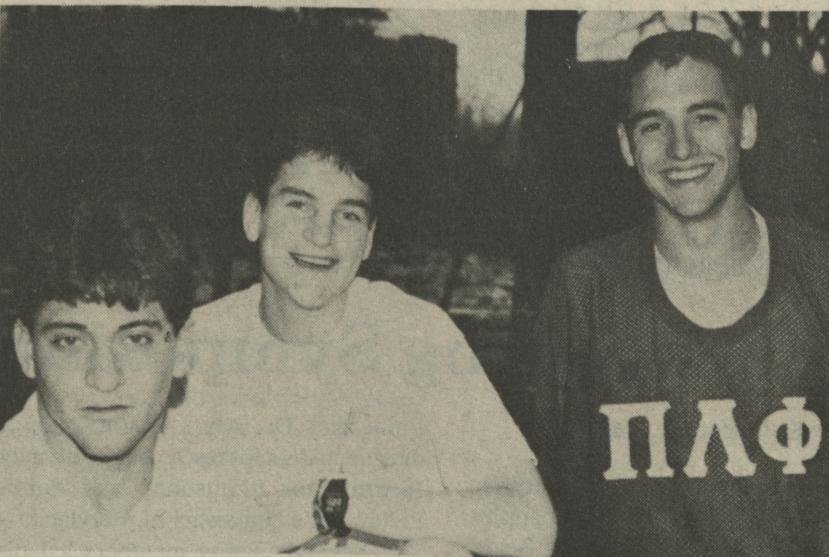

'A photographer's nightmare' at the Derby Days talent contest in the University Center.

Photos compiled by David Lasher, Photo Editor

Sue and Kevin hang out at the Pheonix's Greek night.

Pi Lambs relax in the spring weather by the University Center.

Laying out on Nanticoke Beach.

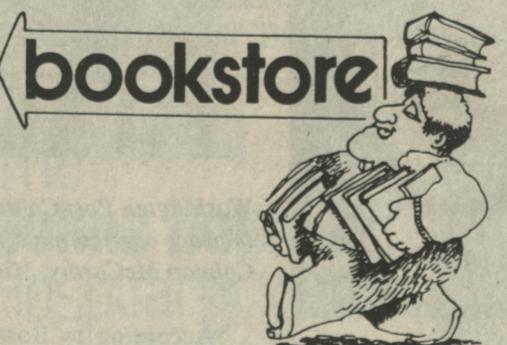

Scott Smith plays around on the quad lawn.

Blizzard of Bucks entrants battle it out.

April dances her Greek night away at the Pheonix.

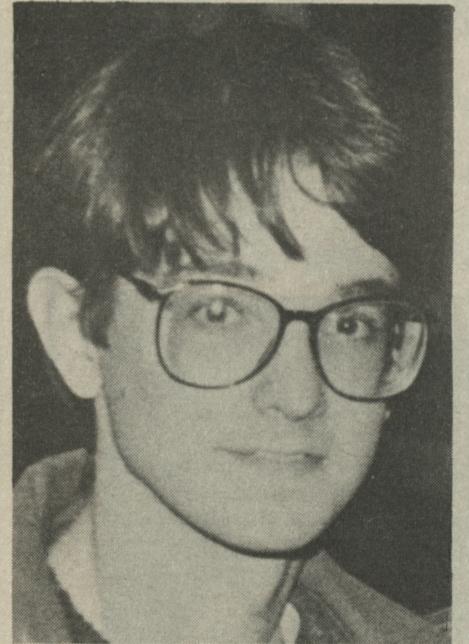

When You Care Enough
to Send the Very Best..
Shop the Book Rack
for Hallmark.

Peace Curriculum Rapidly Gaining Support

by Kathy Maloney, Staff Writer

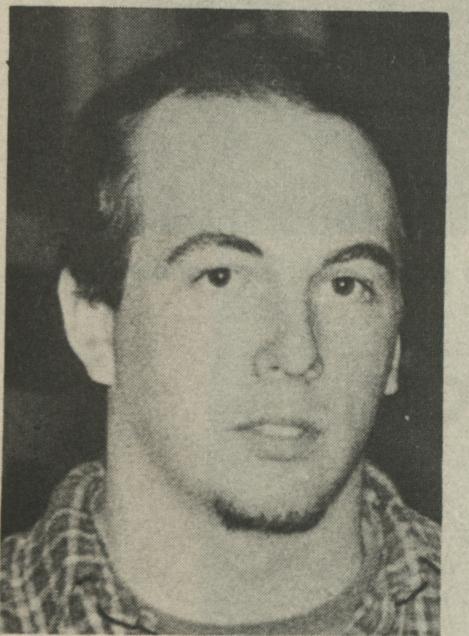

Three SSU students have gathered over 500 signatures on a petition to instill a peace studies course at the University.

The idea started with an informal

David Lasher, Photography Editor
Jim Rapp, one of the peace curriculum initiators.

discussion between Michelle Ennis, Jim Rapp, Blake Been, a few other SSU students and faculty, and Colman

David Lasher, Photography Editor
Blake Been, another concerned SSU student.

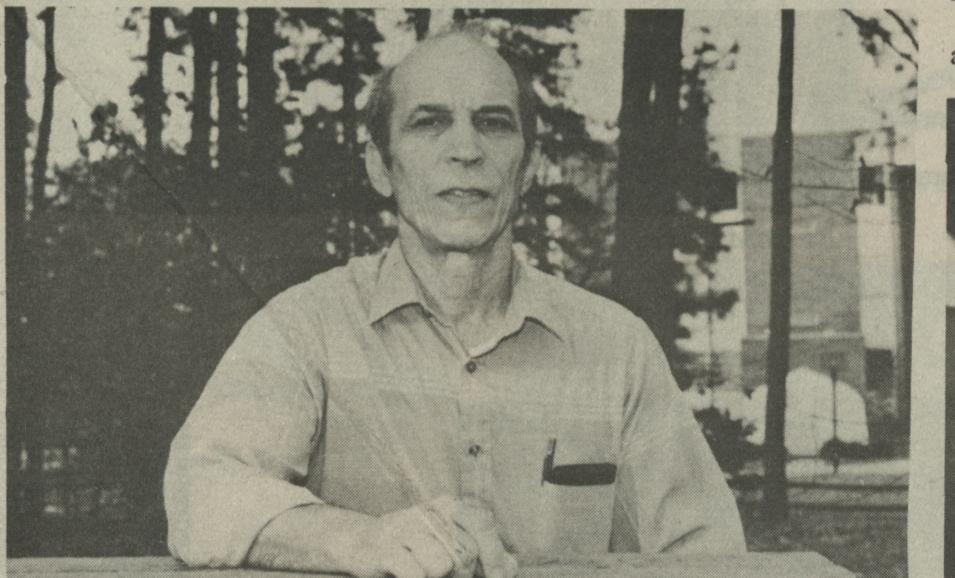

McCarthy. McCarthy, a political activist, was one of the speakers at the "Man and Nature" series at SSU. His discussion with the students was the catalyst for action to initiate a peace studies course on campus, with a long term goal of an eventual Peace Studies major.

Rapp stated the petition was signed by students, faculty, and community residents. He states, "...student support has been great."

Dr. C. Phillip Bosserman, professor of sociology, is very pleased with this idea.

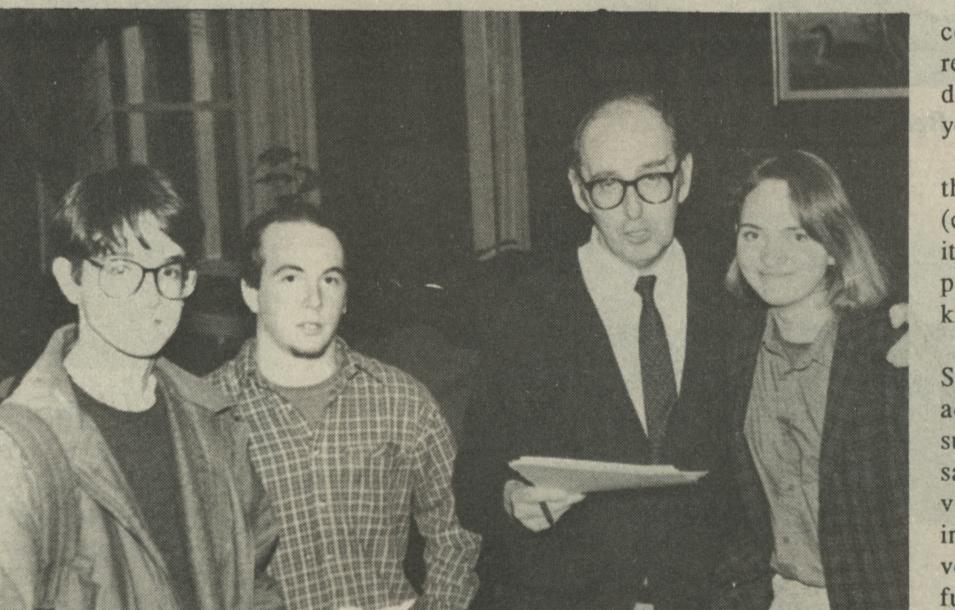

The students would like to explore the writings and philosophies of such people as Ghandi, Jane Addams, Dorothy Day, and Henry David Thoreau.

According to Ennis, "This is not just a course on global issues, this is a

David Lasher, Photography Editor
Ben Fusaro, head of 'Man And Nature' Series, Through which Colman McCarthy was invited to SSU.

He states, "This is the first concerted effort on the part of students to want to have a peace studies course... It is very welcome for any Liberal Arts Program." This fall, Bosserman has agreed to teach a special topics course under the sociology department entitled, "Sociology of Conflict and Nonviolence".

David Lasher, Photography Editor
Washington Post Columnist, Colman McCarthy, offers his support to peace curriculum efforts. Left to right: Jim Rapp, Blake Been, Colman McCarthy, Michelle Ennis.

According to Bosserman, "The course will concentrate on nonviolence in approaching conflict, from family conflict to large society conflict." He also states that many campuses around the country have a peace curriculum, including Georgetown University, Catholic University of D.C., Colgate University, Penn State, and Syracuse University.

A curriculum of this nature seen on so many campuses "suggests that throughout our society we are eager to go beyond the use of violent means for solving international conflict".

According to Rapp and the other students pursuing this issue, the idea behind a peace curriculum is to "...learn what the options are to violence." Rapp states, "We need a balance...we are taught so much about violence throughout our classes, such as wars in our history classes, and we need to learn other options..."

David Lasher, Photography Editor
Colman McCarthy

course about nonviolent means of resolving conflict, personally, in every day life, with your spouse, your kids, your parents, your best friend..."

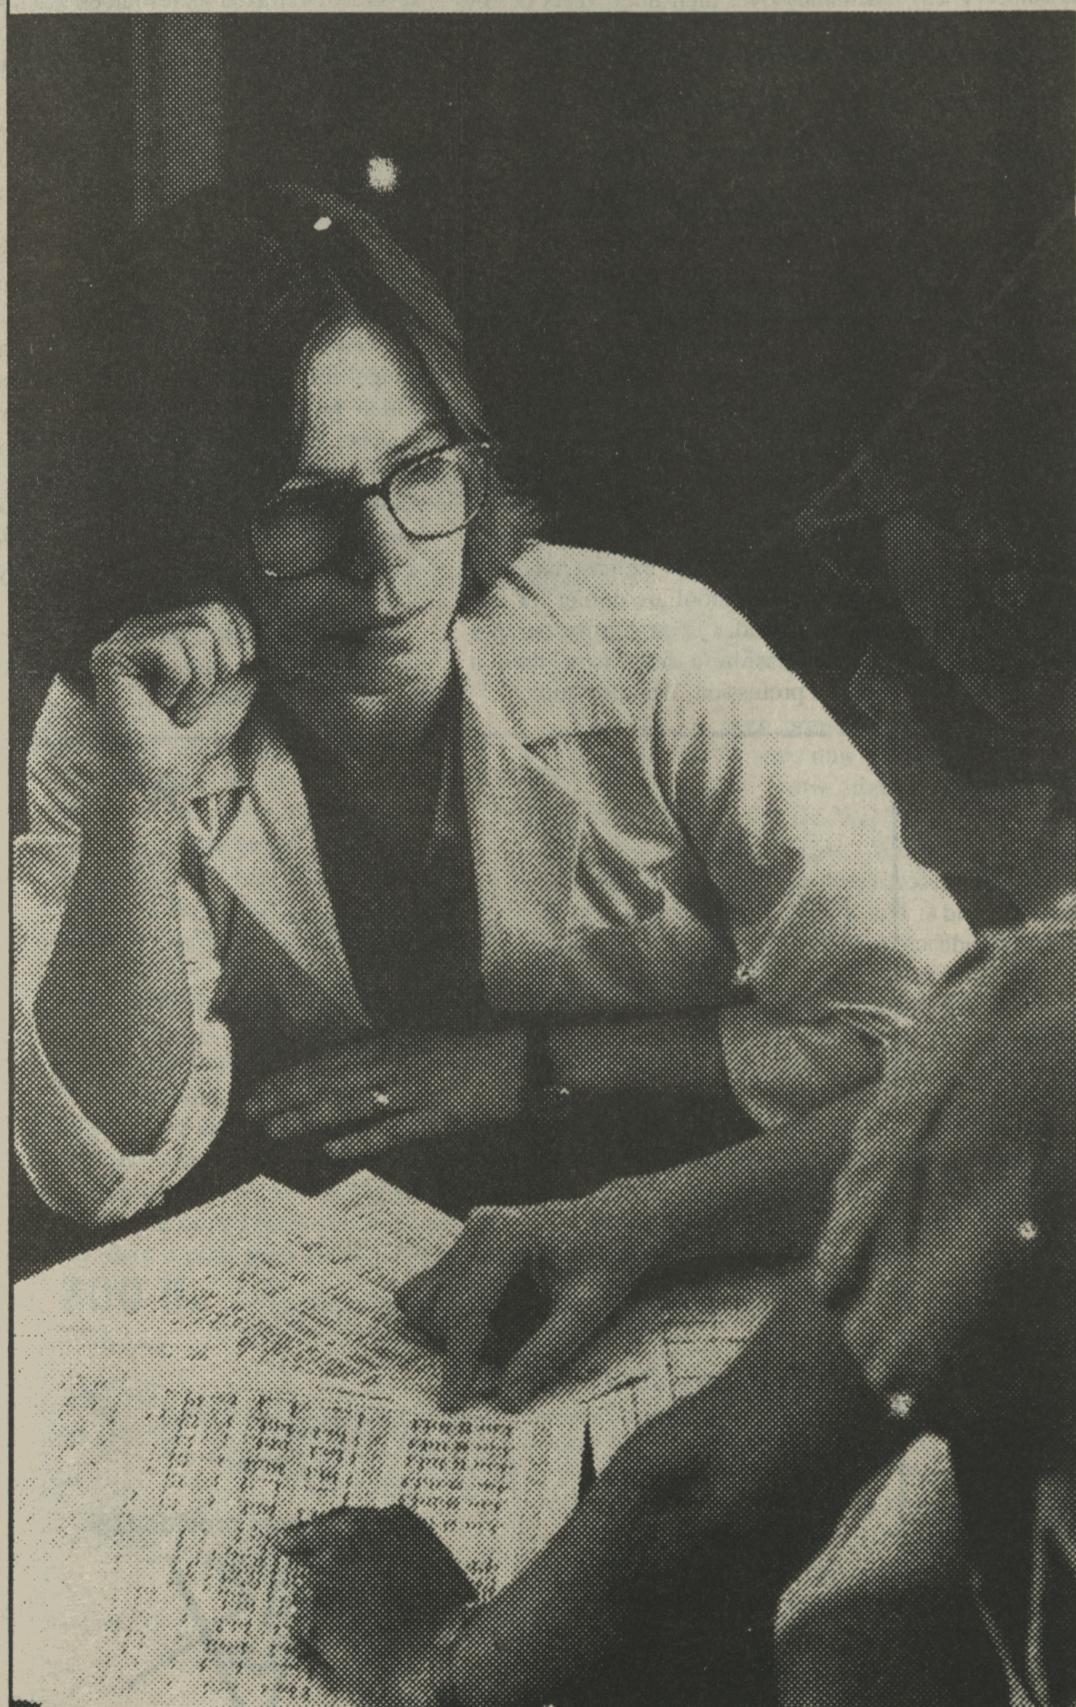

The course would also go beyond theory, according to Ennis, "This (course) is about actually doing it...Sometimes, instead of an exam or a paper, you'll go work in a soup kitchen."

Joseph Forsthoffer, Editor of the Salisbury News and Advertiser, addressed the issue of community support of the peace curriculum. He said, "Salisbury has a real sense of volunteerism, a lot of community involvement...if this class involves volunteerism it will be successful." He further states, "People in this area are concerned with the environment...there is a more direct relationship between the people and the environment than in most places...because of the Chesapeake and the Atlantic."

Forsthoffer is impressed with the students' efforts at establishing this curriculum. He states "...they are not calling for change, they are not saying, 'Don't do this or the school should be doing this'... they are realizing if they want things to change they will have to be the ones to enact that change...a course like this will possibly give them the tools and understanding to look at things differently than previous generations..."

"Hopkins GYN/OB gives our unit the independence we want, and need, to do the job right!"

Lynn Jones RN

In Labor and Delivery, we've created a professional practice unit where nursing staff members set their own goals and develop their own schedules. We have accepted the responsibility to manage our unit and provide quality patient care. Now we all have something invested in our job.

The Johns Hopkins Hospital currently has a limited number of GYN/OB nursing opportunities available in:

Obstetrics Newborn Care

Infertility

Gynecology GYN Oncology

Benefits include:

- Flexible Scheduling
- Professional Practice Model
- Extensive Continuing Education Opportunities—paid for by Hopkins
- A Primary Nursing Environment
- Excellent Medical/Dental/Malpractice Insurance
- Free Child Care Referral

For additional information, contact:
NURSE RECRUITMENT/THE JOHNS HOPKINS HOSPITAL
600 N. Wolfe Street/Baltimore, MD 21205

The
Johns Hopkins Hospital

JOHNS
HOPKINS HEALTH SYSTEM

1-800-638-7214
in Baltimore (301) 955-5592

E.O.E. M/P/H/V

Unprecedented Number Of Law School Applicants

(CPS) -- An unprecedented number of college seniors are trying to get into law school, various campuses report.

While no national numbers are available so soon after the April 1 deadline many schools impose for applications, individual law school admissions officers almost without exception say they've received far more applications for the 1989-90 school year than for other years within memory.

"We've had a 40 percent increase over last year," said John Friesman, admissions director for the University of Vermont's law school, "and last year we had a 22 percent increase over the previous year."

At Drake University Law School, Dean David Walker reported the number of applications has increased 60 percent over the number he got last spring.

Nationwide, 18.5 percent more students took the Law School Admissions Test this year than in 1987-88, the Law School Admissions Service (LSAS) said.

The boom, moreover, comes after a 12-year decline in the number of students wanting to go on to law school, noted LSAS spokesman Bill Kinnish.

"The first factor contributing to the boom is image," Kinnish said. "There was a lot of publicity, bad press and articles about the glut of lawyers during the decline. Now we have 'L. A. Law' and other activities that brought the law to the forefront."

Kinnish isn't the only law school admissions director to thank 'L. A. Law' for students' increased interest in the field.

"That's an impression that various admissions officers have stated, but it's show.

The boom, moreover, comes after a 12-year decline in the number of students wanting to go on to law school, noted LSAS spokesman Bill Kinnish.

"Washington is a very hot place to study law since the Iran-Contra hearings," Upton contended.

Upton and others quickly add students seem to be responding to influences more substantial than mere images, too.

Kinnish, for one, said many students mention how lucrative law can be as their motive for applying to law school.

Students, Kinnish said, "spend a lot of money over their three years of law

Students may be applying to law schools in greater numbers than in past years not because they plan to practice law as a career, but because it "can act as an entree into other professions," Kinnish added.

The boom, however, can strain law schools' ability to teach more students.

Vermont, which like many schools accepts more students than it can handle because it assumes some of them ultimately will enroll elsewhere, severely overtaxed its resources when it found itself with 30 more students than it could handle in its 1988-89 first-year law class, said Friesman.

In response, Vermont capped its first-year enrollment at 150 for 1989-90, but the number of applications rose anyway.

"The harder it is to get in," noted Drake's Walker, "the more people want to come here."

Walker said students seem to rely on image for which school, as well as which profession, to choose. Many students, he explained, equate a school's quality with its entrance requirements.

Though schools that are hard to get into aren't always good academically, Walker said raising admissions standards nearly always raises demand for the school.

"We've quite consciously taken advantage of the surge by being more selective," he reported.

school, and they have to expect that there will be economic opportunities at the end of those three years."

Some top law firms in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles start some new lawyers at as much as $75,000 a class.

Mary Upton, admissions director at the Washington College of Law at American University in Washington, D.C., also thinks TV might have inspired some seniors to consider a law career, although she cites a different

Liberal Arts Unemployment

(CPS) -- Liberal arts majors are still having a harder time finding jobs after graduation even in the boom job market of 1989.

"Journalism, the arts and architecture don't recruit on campus. Public schools used to, and still do where the demand is great," said Larry Smith, placement director at the University of Oregon.

"We see about 950-1050 recruiting organizations each year," said Michigan State University's Thomas Luton.

Lindquist said "the demand for liberal arts grads has increased" because businesses are dealing with a shrinking labor pool meaning there will be fewer specialized majors to choose from.

"We're trying to attract more small businesses to campus, organizations that recruit liberal arts students."

Until colleges can start attracting such companies to recruit on their campuses, liberal arts majors' unemployment will stay higher than their classmates in other fields.

Typically, 15 to 20 percent of each spring's liberal arts majors are still unemployed three to six months after graduation, various studies show.

Victor Lindquist, placement director at Northwestern University and coordinator of an annual nationwide survey of corporate hiring plans for new grads, blames colleges for not doing enough to bring firms that want to hire liberal arts majors to campus to recruit.

"It's an enormous disservice," he said.

"Young men and women need our kind of assistance," Lindquist added.

Lindquist said "the demand for liberal arts grads has increased" because businesses are dealing with a shrinking labor pool meaning there will be fewer specialized majors to choose from.

"And while these colleges express no responsibility for career placement, they sure want your financial support."

Lindquist said "the demand for liberal arts grads has increased" because businesses are coping with a shrinking labor pool -- meaning there will be fewer specialized majors to choose from -- and because businesses don't always want specialists.

MOONLIGHT DANCE
Sat. May 13, 1989
Red Square - 8:00 pm - 1 am

Sponsored by R.H.A.

9089 Mark Weitzman CPS

Dance Company- A "Really Different" Concert

submitted by Public Relations

What do a prominent Washington, D.C. choreographer with a national reputation, some 30 members of the local Eastern Shore community, the Salisbury State University Concert Choir and a professional juggler all have in common?

Each is collaborating with the SSU Dance Company on its spring concert, titled, "This One Is Really Different," which plays May 13 and 14 in Holloway Hall Auditorium at Salisbury State. In the words of Dance Company director, Susan Turner, this concert "really is different". As its rehearsals progressed, "things kept getting zanier and zanier."

"All people should have access to dance, no matter what their age, ability or body type," said Lerman, who has brought this philosophy to nursing homes, elderly housing projects and hospitals as well as theatres and universities across the country. As The Boston Globe noted in observing Lerman's work, "...dance is empowering, and dance is for everyone."

Choreographer Liz Lerman, who has received accolades from newspapers as diverse as The New York Times, Los Angeles Times and the Cleveland Plain Dealer as well as prestigious Dance Magazine, comes to Salisbury for the

On the Bookshelf

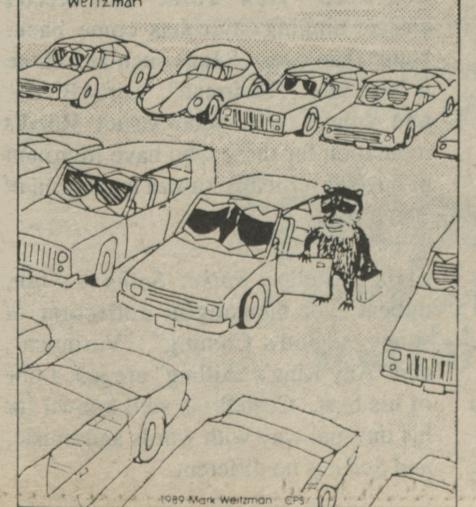

FirstFlight

by Jim Bergevin, Staff Writer

If you have heard of Chris Claremont before, it's probably through his writing for the comic book company named Marvel. For several years now, Claremont has written the comic book X-Men, and since he has started, demand for this comic has risen. Recently, Claremont began writing a tie-in comic called Wolverine. The issues from this new series are also in great demand. Claremont made his debut in the novel world with his book, FirstFlight, in December of 1987.

Lieutenant Nicole Shea blew it. She failed the simulation test to become pilot, and have a command of her own. But, she got lucky. She had friends in the right places and got a second chance. Now she's a pilot for a small scientific

ZOO U. by Mark Weitzman

FirstFlight is a very enjoyable book, aside from some of the harsh language used by the characters. But that can only be expected from someone who has worked under the strict rules of the Comics Code Authority. If you have seen Claremont's work in the X-Men and Wolverine, then you don't want to miss FirstFlight. In the meantime, Claremont is still writing at Marvel Comics, so you might want to consider picking up the next issues of X-Men and Wolverine at a nearby comic shop or book store.

FirstFlight is 243 pages long and has a cover price of $2.95.

looking at them in a broader sense (as the dance relates to nature)."

Throughout the concert, Paul Belanger, known locally as Paul T. Juggler, will perform, seguing between the varied pieces, which range from the light-hearted to the thought-provoking," Turner noted.

Performances are at 8 pm Saturday, May 13, and 2 pm Sunday, May 14. Tickets are $4 general admission; $3 for students and senior citizens. They are available at the door. For more information call (301) 543-6353.

Theatre Review

by Susan Harris, Entertainment Editor

audience love "Babe" from the start.

Barnette Lloyd, played by David Cherry, was Babe's lawyer (who tries to help with her case against her husband). I have seen Cherry in several plays before, such as "Marat/Sade," "The Foreigner," and "The Fantastics," but, like Campbell, I like Cherry in "Crimes" the best. His part may have not been as big as previous ones, but it seems that Cherry really expanded his career by portraying a nerdy but cute, boyish southern gentleman. I liked Cherry in this role, and would enjoy seeing him in similar roles in the future.

Steve Collins portrayed the other Southern gentleman in the play. Collin's role was small, but produced quite a few laughs throughout the audience. I thought he was a good addition to "Crimes of the Heart."

Robyn Wesley portrayed Chick Boyle, the Magratn Sister's nose. Wesley was brilliant. After her first scene I found myself waiting to see her again. Wesley was also a comedy outlet, and developed the perfect character that you love to hate.

"Crimes of the Heart" definitely turned out to be one of the highlights of this year's theater productions. It was an upbeat play that kept the audience's attention and interest, eliminating any dead scenes. The many props, lighting, and effects were done well.

Solution to the puzzle found on page 14

B	I	D	S	A	P	E	T	O	M
I	R	O	N	L	A	V	R	U	E
T	E	N	O	R	E	P	A	I	R
E	K	R	O	N	E	G	A	S	H
A	L	E	O	N	E	E	L	E	L
M	A	T	T	E	N	D	L	A	A
A	T	E	N	D	L	A	A	L	S
I	T	S	L	E	O	O	I	L	I
D	E	M	O	D	E	L	P	E	T
T	I	E	M	E	R	N	E	N	O

OGRE TENDER
MEANDER OPALS
END IAGO ETUI
REE SMEE LEGS

Senior Art Exhibit

by Eric R. Muller, Contributor

Senior Art students at Salisbury State University present their Senior Art Exhibit which opened Saturday, April 29, from 7-9:00 pm in the University Gallery located on the 2nd floor of Blackwell Library. Exhibited are works by senior art majors who, as students in the "Senior Seminar" course taught by Art Department Chairman James Burgess, also organized the exhibition and designated the installation. The show will run through May 18.

Each senior will be displaying a variety of works that he or she has completed over his or her years of attending the University. As well as having their pieces on display, this show will give the seniors the opportunity to let the public be aware of their skills and abilities as artists and designers.

This year's seniors have varied directions of interest ranging from visual communications/graphic design to three-dimensional design. Those seniors concentrating in visual communications/graphic design are Richard Doutt, La Plata; Pamela Gillespie, Frederick; Cristine Jernigan, Seaford, DE; Eric Muller, Ellicott City; Daniel Siegrist, Bridgewater, NJ; Patrick Woods, Glen Burnie; and Janet Simms of Salisbury.

Students focusing on two-dimensional design are Lisa

Calloway, Fruitland, and Thora Westre, Denton. Two seniors in art education are Emily Griffith of Severn and Stephen Sweet of Upper Marlboro. The only three-dimensional design major is Jan Hills from Lock Haven, PA. Gene Blades of Trappe, MD is a Liberal Studies major concentrating in photography.

Dr. Kent N. Kimmel, associate professor of Art, gave his best advice for the future, "The first person you have to please or impress is yourself, so first and foremost be true to and satisfied with who you are; develop self-reliance. If you are fortunate enough to be mentally and physically endowed with the prospect of being self-sufficient, focus on the positive aspects of your life and strive to overcome or strengthen your weaknesses. And finally, because growth doesn't cease with the end of your formal education or age, continue to take criticism constructively, continue to be a student, and share with others the things that you have learned. Leave your corner of the world a better place than you found it."

This year's work will include a variety of media -- photography, advertising layouts, ceramics, paintings, sculpture and drawings. The students' portfolios will also be available to review. The public is welcome, and admission is free.

*Eastern Shore Pregnancy Center
205 Newton Street
Salisbury, Maryland 21801
(301) 546-5433*

*-WE CARE-
Free Pregnancy Testing
CONFIDENTIAL*

Review- "Pet Sematary"

by David Lasher, Photography Editor

(ugh)). Mr. King has said he gets his ideas from his dreams. Apparently Mack trucks are a recurrent nightmare with him.

Master horror author Stephen King has done it again, and done it big! Pet Sematary (sic), the latest movie from King, is the suspenseful and gory tale of a local university doctor and his family who experience the horror of a reanimation gone sour.

Having moved to an unnamed town, to take a position as the new school doctor at an unnamed university, seemingly in the Midwest, Dr. Creed and family discover a twisting path in the backyard which leads to a pet cemetery, mostly for animals claimed by 'the road' and its high-speed 18 wheelers. (Stephen King's obsession with tractor trailers carries over from his last film, "Maximum Overdrive" and 9:25.

Music Review

by Susan Harris, Entertainment Editor

REM-Capital Centre (Largo, MD)

three breaks as well, after playing for only 45 minutes the first time. Nevertheless, REM's diverse musical talent shined, producing an enjoyable, uplifting concert. REM is tentatively scheduled to come back to the East Coast later this summer. It is a fun concert worth seeing.

Lighting: The lights were a bit above average. The background screen that showed various clips during songs and "talked" to the audience between breaks was a good addition.

Vocal: REM is not a group that stands still and plays, especially Michael Stripe. The group was entertaining as a whole, and kept your attention.

Sound: The instrumental music overrode some of Stripe's lyrics, but that was because of the sound technician and not the group. Overall, the music was loud and upbeat-- perfect for a concert.

Additional comments: Because this is REM's Green album tour, a lot of songs from that album were played. Nevertheless, I wish they would have performed more songs from Murmur, Life's Rich Pageant, and Document than they did. I was looking forward to songs such as "Superman" and my favorite, "I'll Follow You". They took Records -- If you haven't bought these yet, do so. Each album is a great addition to any musical collection.

Lou Reed - New York: Lou Reed's classic singing style has come back, better than ever. Songs such as "There is No Time", "Stairman", "Dirty Blvd.", and others will reconstruct Reed's reputation for those who have forgotten or have never really known the legend of Lou Reed.

Elvis Costello - Spike: Spike is a fun, upbeat, yet meaningful collection of songs. "God's Coming", "Veronica", and "Any King's Shilling" are just a few of his best. Costello is well known for his unusual way with words and music, and Spike is no different.

Spaced-out... or a hidden sign of epilepsy?

Epilepsy doesn't always look like epilepsy. Especially among adolescents who develop a common seizure disorder that is often mistaken for the spaced-out behavior that comes with drug or alcohol abuse. Let's learn to spot the hidden signs of epilepsy because early recognition and treatment can help prevent bigger problems later on. Get the facts. Contact your local affiliate of the Epilepsy Foundation of America, or use this coupon.

Epilepsy.
It's not what you think.

Epilepsy Foundation of America
P.O. Box 1573, Washington, D.C. 20013

I want to learn more about the hidden signs of epilepsy.

Name _____

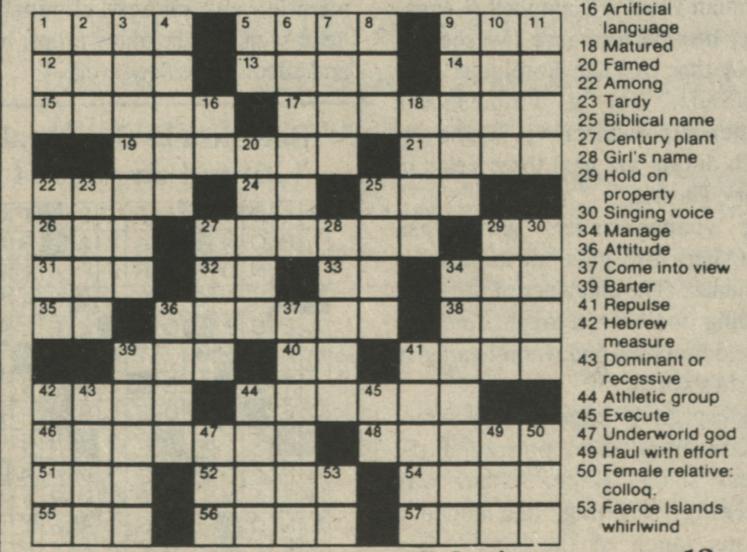

Address _____

City, State, Zip _____

This space donated by publisher.

ACROSS

- 1 Propositions
- 5 Imitates
- 9 Male turkey
- 12 Metal
- 13 Volcanic emanation
- 14 Regret
- 15 Choir voice
- 17 Mend
- 19 Scandinavian monogram unit: pl.
- 21 Long, deep cut
- 22 Toward shelter
- 24 In the vicinity of
- 25 Lamprey
- 26 Likelihood
- 27 Be present
- 29 Note of scale
- 31 Possessive pronoun
- 32 French article
- 33 Bore
- 34 Lubricate
- 35 Prefix: down
- 36 Patterns
- 38 Teacher's favorite
- 39 Stalemate
- 40 Myself
- 41 City in Nevada
- 42 Monster
- 44 Fragile
- 46 Wander aimlessly
- 48 Semi-precious stones
- 51 Goal
- 52 Character in "Othello"
- 54 Case for small articles
- 55 Female ruff
- 56 Pintail duck
- 57 Limbs
- 58 Teacher's favorite
- 59 Indian mulberry
- 60 Possessive pronoun
- 61 Intertwine
- 62 Artificial language
- 63 Maternal
- 64 Friend
- 65 Among
- 66 Tardy
- 67 Biblical name
- 68 Century plant
- 69 Girl's name
- 70 Hold on
- 71 Property
- 72 Singing voice
- 73 Manage
- 74 Attitude
- 75 Come into view
- 76 Barter
- 77 Repulse
- 78 Hebrew measure
- 79 Dominant or recessive
- 80 Athletic group
- 81 Execute
- 82 Underworld god
- 83 Haul with effort
- 84 Female relative: colloq.
- 85 Faeroe Islands whirlwind

Solution on page 13

COLLEGE PRESS SERVICE

Gulls Baseball in Championship

by Rick Thornton, Sports Editor

The baseball team has been playing a hectic schedule as of late. This is due to the rescheduling of earlier games due to bad weather.

On April 18 the Gulls traveled to Chestertown, MD to take on Washington College. Greg Hook went 3 for 5 including a solo homerun to enable SSU to claim a 9-3 decision. Paul Williams, Chris Manouse, and Mike Marinelli all contributed multiple hits. Three pitchers combined to scatter eight hits. Fred Spano recorded the victory.

Saturday the 22nd saw Salisbury hosting Frostburg State for a doubleheader. In game one, the visitors jumped to a 3-0 lead in the top of the second and they held on to win 3-1. SSU bounced back in game two. Frank Szymanski went 2 for 3 with three RBI and Greg Hook knocked the game winning run in the Gulls' 10-8 triumph.

Salisbury's next opponent was the Johns Hopkins Blue Jays. Salisbury fell 11-5 to the Jays, who recorded their twenty-third victory of the year. John Lettieri went 3 for 5 at the plate in the losing cause.

The Gulls next traveled to St. Mary's. This club has received some national recognition as a result of its female firstbaseman Julie Croteau. SSU piled up twenty hits enroute to a 17-1 leveling of their opponents. Manouse reached base safely 4 out of 5 times, added 3 RBI, and scored three runs. Mike Shockley and Russ Smith hit safely three times each. Senior pitcher Kevin Smith went the distance to get the complete game win.

The Wesley Wolverines visited Salisbury on April 26. Mike Shockley went 3 for 4, scored five runs, and stole six bases to lead the Gulls to their 11-8 victory. Marinelli added two hits and four RBI. Fred Spano came on in the fourth inning and collected his third win of the season. Brad Beck relieved Spano in the eighth and recorded a save.

That win forced SSU and Frostburg to face off in a one-game playoff. Both teams ended their ESAC season with identical conference records. So Friday the two teams took the field at a neutral site - the University of Maryland.

Mike Marinelli and Chris McDonald homered to allow SSU to score seven runs in the final three innings of play and win the ballgame 9-1. Marinelli's shot was a solo in the seventh while McDonald's was a two-run blast in the ninth. Mark Perry went the distance for the Gulls, allowing eight hits and one earned run, walking three, while striking out nine.

With the victory, Salisbury captured the Southern Division crown and won the right to travel to Eastern College for the ESAC championship. Last year SSU won the championship 4-3 against Eastern.

by Scott Reeling

Strong swings and determination led the baseball team to the championship.

Sell Books Back for Cash Bring them to:

The Book Rack

Mon, May 22 thru Fri, May 26

Mon - Thurs 9:00 AM - 7:00 PM
Fri 9:00 AM - 4:00 PM

Free Snacks Compliments Of The Book Rack

$$
HARDBOUND OR PAPER
We buy All Books Having
A National Resale Value
$$

Women's Lacrosse

by Rick Thornton, Sports Editor

Salisbury's women's lacrosse team took a 6-5 record into the Maryland State Tournament. The Gulls ended their regular season with victories over Haverford and Goucher.

Going back to April 18, SSU hosted the Georgetown Hoyas. After leading early, Salisbury dropped a 9-6 decision. Andie Phillips' four goals topped the Gulls offensively. Teammate Lisa Kallis collected 10 saves while standing in goal.

Two days later Salisbury traveled to face a tough Division II Shippensburg squad. The home team exploded offensively in sending the Gulls to a 28-12 loss. Linda Lombardi and Kim Marlatt tallied four goals a piece in the

Men's Tennis

by Tray Webb, Staff Writer

The Salisbury State men's tennis team rode a mini roller coaster through this 1989 spring season. The team has rebounded from last year's losing season and currently stands at ten wins with only one loss in Division III play.

The team began the season strong, but slumped through their spring break tour, dropping two matches to stronger Division I and II teams. Two weekends ago the team rebounded to win its third Eastern States Athletic Conference

The team bounced back from the

Buzzell has only lost ten times at SSU and has a career winning average of .850.

(ESAC) tournament championship in four years. Salisbury State's head tennis coach Dean Burroughs said, "Our team's strong depth has been one of the big reasons for the team's vast improvement over last season."

The Gulls closed out the season in fine fashion as they hammered Goucher 25-9. Kim Marlatt and Linda Lombardi scored five times each. Andie Phillips added four goals and three assists. Each of the five seniors on the team scored versus Goucher.

SSU women's lacrosse participated in the Maryland State Tournament over the weekend. The team faced a marathon schedule including five games on Saturday alone. Results will be included in the next issue.

SSU women's lacrosse participated in the Maryland State Tournament over the weekend. The team faced a marathon schedule including five games on Saturday alone. Results will be included in the next issue.

Men's Lacrosse Moves Higher in Rankings

by Rick Thornton, Sports Editor

The men's lacrosse team has moved up in the national rankings. The Gulls are now number five in the country for Division III teams. This comes as the result of two big wins over previously unbeaten West Chester and number eight Hampden-Sydney.

SSU hosted West Chester on April 15, and was forced to play again in inclement weather. The home team overcame the rain and muddy field to send West Chester to a 15-7 defeat. After being deadlocked 1-1, Salisbury ran off ten straight goals. On the same day the Gulls outshot their opponents 42-28.

Tim Berquist racked up three goals and five assists to lead SSU. Rick Berkman, Joe Lynch, and Ben Carroll all added three goals apiece.

Hampden-Sydney visited Seagull Stadium a week later and finally SSU had some good weather in which to play. The Tigers lived up to their number eight billing. Through three quarters of play, Hampden-Sydney controlled the pace and led 8-6.

At this point, Salisbury's superior athletes took over. The Gulls rattled off seven consecutive goals for the 13-7 win. Joe Lynch's three goals led the victors. In all, ten players scored goals.

Salisbury (9-3) faced the number two ranked Washington College Shoremen for their last regular season contest. The Gulls have an excellent opportunity to qualify for post-season play no matter what the outcome of the game should be.

Women's Softball

by Rick Thornton, Sports Editor

Salisbury's softball team ended its regular season with a mark of 17-7.

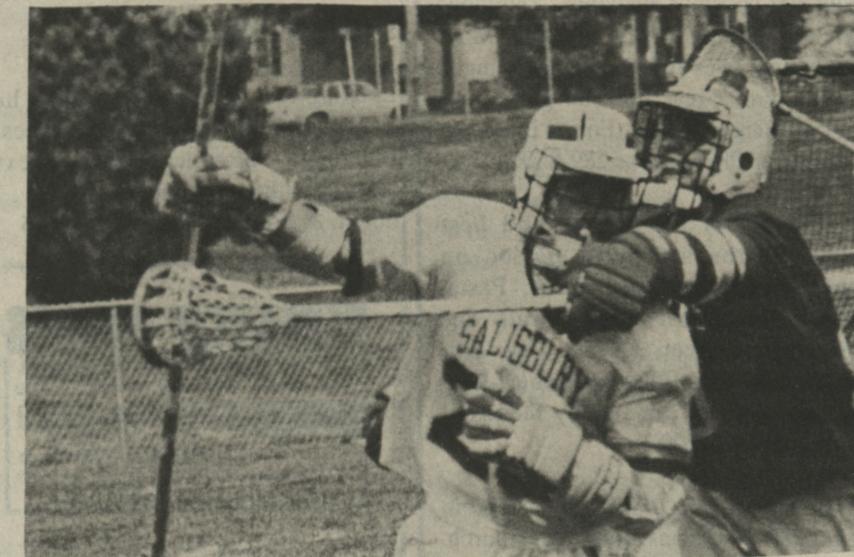

The last few weeks were quite hectic as the Gulls played three opponents on the road.

SSU hosted a top-notch Trenton team back on April 16. The visitors swept two games 12-1 and 6-0.

The Gulls earned a split with Glassboro a few days later. Game one saw Terry Sharpless go the distance to pick up the 2-1 victory. Glassboro jumped on top 3-0 in the first inning of game two and went on to win 4-1.

Kristy Keil belted her second homer in as many days in game two, as the Gulls prevailed again 4-2. Tina Dejaco added two hits for SSU offensively. Amy Geppi picked up the win on the mound.

Stockton State was the next opponent for Salisbury. Sharpless got her ninth win of the season in a 9-1 rout. A seven-run third inning vaulted the Gulls. Kristy Keil was the offensive spark as she went 2 for 4 at the plate with five RBI. That included a home run to right center.

By David Lasher

These players battle it out during the Salisbury vs. Hampden-Sydney game.

Resume Service

- Quality Copies
- Matching Cover Sheets
- Matching Envelopes

kinko's
the copy center

1310 S. Salisbury Blvd. Salisbury
546-1991

Help Wanted

The Flyer Newsmagazine is currently seeking people to fill the position of Production Assistant.

This is a payed position. All interested individuals should stop by the Flyer office, 229 A in the University Center.

PAPER CHASE
Professional Word Processing and Secretarial Services
Theses, Term Papers, Resumes,
Cover letters, etc.

Utilizing decades of executive secretarial experience and state-of-the art equipment assuring a high quality finished product.

312 E. Main Street
Salisbury, MD
Contact Janon John
543-0010

CLASSIFIEDS

May 3, 1989

CLASSIFIEDS

CLASSIFIEDS

PERSONALS

PERSONALS

Summer positions available. Telescope Picture Photographers wanted. Must have great sales ability and be willing to work hard. Great fun and great pay. Serious inquiries only. For an interview please call 289-0567 or 289-8500.

Be a part of the newest and best state of the art pizza parlor on the beach. Caruso - Pizza, Pasta, Subs. Downtown - Boardwalk and Wicomico Street, Ocean City, MD Restaurant positions available. Call Scott at 289-3577 or stop by Monday - Saturday 8:00-4:00.

Would you like a ride to and from church? St. Albans Episcopal Church. Will leave from Maggs PAC at 9:30 AM Sunday. Call 742-0201.

GREAT BRITISH VACATION -- CHEAP! Attractive furnished four-bedroom townhouse in Swansea, Wales available for summer vacationing July, August, September, 1989. Convenient to resorts, public transportation. $1000/month. Call Dr. Stewart at 546-3860.

Home word processor selling out! Tandy Daisy wheel printer - IBM comp. and Bi-direc. tractor - bought 12/88 for $560, asking $450. Wordperfect 4.2 software, manual, etc. $250 new - $175. Both printer and software for $550. Call 742-4899.

SUMMER JOBS - part time, Saturdays only, cleaning condo's in Ocean City. Needs teams of two with own transportation. Must be available every Saturday thru the summer. Good pay plus bonus. Call 301-289-6626 between 9-5, ask for Geri Stoll.

OCEAN CITY SUMMER RENTALS - one bedroom apartments and cottages in West Ocean City, one mile out of O.C. on Route 50 and Herring Creek. $750.00 per person for the summer season. Write: P.O. Box 622, O.C., MD 21842. Call 301-289-6626.

OCEAN CITY SUMMER RENTALS, spacious, attractive, two bedroom townhouses in North Ocean City. Furnished, washer, dryer, dishwasher, central A/C. Sleeps six. No pets. Write: P.O. Box 622, Ocean City, MD 21842. Call 301-289-6626.

Local commercial printer is seeking sales representatives for established, expanding company. High quality multi-color work. Full production support. Commission/Salary available. Call 301-742-6646.

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

The Kite Loft

Looking for athletic, personable, high achievers to assume responsibilities in fun retail. Excellent pay and extra rewards to the successful.

6th St. & Boardwalk--call 289 7855

RESEARCH PAPERS

16,278 to choose from - all subjects
Order Catalog Today with Visa/MC or COD
Toll Free Hot Line 800-351-0222
In Calif. (213) 477-8226
Or, rush $2.00 to: Research Assistance
11322 Idaho Ave. #206-SN, Los Angeles, CA 90025
Custom research also available--all levels

PERSONALS

K. B.=3; Globe=1

Dick Monk - the onslaught continues.

Liz - We now add chloraseptic to the list.
Mitch

Mike-BEWARE of the mono man!!!!!!

Best wishes to the happy couple! I love you guys!!
P. S. Hey Hopie, throw the bouquet this way! HA! HA!

Friday Morning Frenzy- 9:30-11:30 WSUR!

Cooler Pusher-

We need to get together and do what we do best. Include A.R and M.E, too.
Inspector of Bunnies

K. G., K. G., and T. F.: MAYBE you weren't lying! W. A.

Lambe: We've decided to use a "wet cement jump" instead of the steeple water jump.

-Dr. A"

Nick- what a class--- constant blinking and smiling, and O. Fix. too!

Mitch

D Mark: Bolt the door, get on the floor, here comes the Dogwood Dinosaur.

-Dr. A"

Terry,
Thank you for the best time I've ever had. My life has been so complete since I met you! I can hardly wait until our time comes to walk the aisle together and be joined as one. (But let's get a move on with the ring...O.K. babe!)I love you more and more everyday!
Yours Forever,
Peggy

MOXC2 - Habla es preservitro!!

Val- I'm never playing Rummy again! I'd rather sleep anyway.

To whom it may concern:

Mickey Mouse has AIDS!

Lisa T.

CONGRATULATIONS to the newly installed Phi Delta Chapter of Phi Mu!!!! We made it through hard work, many tears, and a ridiculous amount of stress! But we did it, and that's what matters! Best of luck to us all in our newly found bond!

Thud and the Rock Star,
I LOVE YOU GUYS!!
Sissy

Roomie Mindy would like to finally and ecstatically announce the engagement of Miss Hope Lee Yennerell to Mr. Brian R. Kananen. Hope is an elementary education major from Wilmington, Delaware. Brian is currently attending the University of Delaware and is also a native of Wilmington. A June '91 wedding is planned.

Best wishes to the happy couple! I love you guys!!

P. S. Hey Hopie, throw the bouquet this way! HA! HA!

Tina- Meet Matt!

Ad for personals: Personal ads of 25 words or less are free for SSU students. More than one personal may be submitted on a page.

Fu, What'd she say? Okay? Okay? I read somewhere you're a sex-poolie! Is it true? Chucky told me it was.

Love, nicknameless

Therese,
Life is nothing without a DARK TAN!
---SunshineDonna and Crystal,
What happened to Tuesdays?
-SplotchSUNSHINE IS S-U-P-A-H BAD!
B-A-D!!

I'd just like to add, Dana has Nooooo Money!

Fozzy Bear,
Did you FART during gettin' busy?Eauuuu,
SunshineFozzy Bear,
Eauuuu! That's bloody putrid!!
Farting while gettin' busy! Was it fun?
-- Glen RockMr. Spreen,
I LOVE YOU!
Forever, Mrs. Spreen
XOXOXOFozzy Bear, Better get you umbrella. It's drizzling! Oh no!
-- A "Chicken" LoverTherese,
What happened to your bank card? Did it get sucked up? Ahhh, that's too bad.

Danny, Don't LAUGH! Yours is gonna get sucked up next!

Sunshine Fu!

Penny,
Where's Oregon? Two weeks out of the year, that's nothin'! "Phone Love," that's what it is! -- the list girlMRS. CHEESE, HOW'S CHUCKY? ARE YOU OBSESSED?
LOVE YA,
BURNT TO A CRISPTherese & Danny,
I'd just like to say, "Tommy's awesome!" Yes, it's me!

Joe - Thanks for all the chances to bask in the shadow of your "greatness". What a lucky girl I am. Ha Ha. Will I ever learn my place? After all, I wear my shoes in public. - Cat

Danny,
You're VIOLATED!

Sunshine

Tina - I'm finding your Bam-Bam!
- the married woman

Penelope, That's what I'm thinkin'!! Give it up. Get a new one. Where did you get it, from that Lemm guy?

T.

Danny, Therese, and Penny,
We are Bethany bound!
SunshineMr. Thomas Charles Spreen,
Don't even think of scamming on some college girl while you're here!

Oh, I forgot - you'll be in a waterbed the whole weekend!!!! With bubbles!

Love, your wife

Dana and Tommy,
You guys are the BEST! I love you! Oh Tommy, I mean Chucky, you smell GOOD! I'm obsessed.
Bowie Bound.

May 3, 1989

CLASSIFIEDS

19

PERSONALS

WE HAVE NOTHING TO REMEMBER OUR ROAD TRIP BY...THERESE, YOUR HEAD'S ON FIRE!

Sunshine got the car accomplished!!! What's next? Danny? Therese? Anyone? Spreen? Spreen? Anyone?

Road trip to Laurel, MD. April 28, 1989, We godda get my boy!
--Mrs. SpreenFozzy Bear and Mrs. Cheese, How about another road trip? I love cigarettes in my hour. We'll pick up Chuck, and fart the whole way home.
You know whoDana and Tommy,
Whipped cream? Now Bubbles! A waterbed too! Have FUN!! I know you will!! Miami Hotel here they come.
A Jersey Girl

Therese KILLED BAMBI!

Flaming Liberal - How could I have raised my two boys so differently? You both eat like good Eastern Shore boys, but that's about all you have in common. - W. S. Democrat

Colleen, Thanks for all of your help with everything! -Dana

Debbie - Thanks for being there

PERSONALS

Therese,
We (you, Patty, and I) are gonna have a lovely apartment!
Fu!Penny Davis is CHEATING!
signed the Alabama DetectiveDanell, I'm just gonna have to add -- You're awesome! Can I dance with you?
--Danaroni

Danaroni LOVES Chuck E. Cheese

New Jersey and Fozzy Bear,
BASE -- how low can you go? As low as an ice cube in your mouth, New Jersey? And as low as farting Fozzy?K. B.=1; Susan=3
Gina Peone- I want to meet you - really bad!Britta, Will you always hold my hand at Stephen King horror movies?
-SportswriterJimmy W. - This is the first move, you make the next. I'll be waiting...
From the girl upstairs

Beck - We just have to be together next semester. I'll die without my favorite hormone for a roommate. Any great ideas? - Cath

Christine, Kim, Kathy - I'm Looking forward to this summer ---We'll have a blast.
- Love, Your roomie

PERSONALS

Dining Hall Boy- I'm still watching.... and you're still lookin' good!Officer Lambe: Pursue, fool, pursue!
"Dr. A"

Hazel and Hugh - Our rug is nice and clean now, and you know what that means. Watch out for rug burn! - Greta

Ex-Hurdler: You're "Fosome," stay good and be happy! Ex-Miller

Val- When is the next Rummy game?

K. B.=1; Susan=3

Becky - Are you going to bring Mr. Maryland to the next banquet?

- Miss America

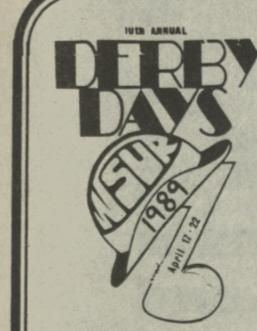

Becky and Sally - You made the banquet memorable for everyone. Great job!
- Love, Your sister Lori

Tim - Thanks for taking care of me that Friday night and thanks for "being there!" - Your Lovable Lush

P.S. - Eve-ry-day.....

Steph - Thanks for a really nice time last Saturday night. Thanks!!
- Steve

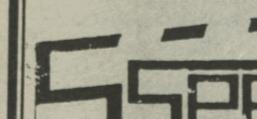

Brecka M. - Remember that I love you always and I'm truly sorry. - Conrad

WSUR "Sounds Of The Shore"
107.5 Cable FM-CH 12 Campus T.V.
Request Line 543-6363Curley's Garage 749-7300
1033 S. Salisbury Blvd.Salisbury Pepsi Cola 546-1136
432 Race St.

10th ANNUAL DERBY DAYS

WSUR, Book Rack And SSPB wish to congratulate:

CHOPTANK CHICHIHABAS - 1ST PLACE! And... The Rest Of The Teams Who Participated:

MANOKIN MANIACS KYK SALISBURY SEAMEN
TONY AND THE TAUS ZETA

Also, A Big Thanks Goes To The Following Organizations/Businesses For Their Donations And Support To WSUR For The 10th Annual Derby Days:

Book Rack
SSPB
Public Safety
Appropriations Board
Physical Plant Dept.
Univ. Center Office
SSU Intermural Dept.

Nick Idonis 742-7427
1306 S. Salisbury Blvd.

Meatland 546-9840
701 S. Salisbury Blvd.

Carey Distributors 749-1242
Fruitland

Four Star Pizza 546-4030
1316 S. Salisbury Blvd.

Pizza Movers 546-5566
519 Riverside Drive

THE "TCBY" SHIVER™

"TCBY" FROZEN YOGURT, with a twist of your favorite treats.

Say goodbye to ice cream with a delicious "TCBY" Shiver™, made with world famous "TCBY" Frozen Yogurt blended with your favorite treats, such as a variety of naturally sweetened fruits, "M&M's" Chocolate Candies, SNICKERS® Bar and KUDOS® Granola Snacks. The "TCBY" Shiver™ is a delicious way to say "Goodbye" to ice cream at your nearby "TCBY" store.

ALL THE PLEASURE.
NONE OF THE GUILT.

"TCBY"

The Country's Best Yogurt®

Dogwood Drive
Salisbury, MD 21801
(Across from the University Center)
742-7900

"M&M's" Chocolate Candies, SNICKERS Bar, and KUDOS Granola Snacks are registered trademarks of Mars, Inc.

50¢ OFF
ANY MENU ITEM.

(Except Kiddie Cup)

"TCBY"

The Country's Best Yogurt

Please present this coupon before ordering. One order per coupon per customer per visit. Customer must pay any sales tax due. Not good in combination with any other offers. Offer good only at participating "TCBY" stores. Cash value: 1/100 of a cent.

Offer Expires: 5/2/89

© 1989 TCBY Systems, Inc.